The ART of

Dwight David Eisenhower

The 34th President of United States 1953-1961

*“Motivation
is the art of getting other people to do what you want them to do because they want to do it.”*

Recruitment -1st step to create your motivated army

Be a role model!

~~not a preacher~~

Create the framework
and let them
be!

Be strong without being harsh

Take a genuine interest in their work-life balance

"It is easier to de-motivate people than to motivate them."

Peter Drucker
